Click on the three-dot menu to select Settings and then click on the black arrow icon. Click on Filter to select the “Filter your Speed Profile” option. Click on the Change Profile button. If you have multiple connections to your ISP then you can select them all. Click the green button below to save the new profile. The profile will be saved to your device for future use. That’s it, it’s as easy as it sounds. If you would like to learn more about the VPN app, check out this post. Why Use a VPN? Some ISPs charge extra fees for downloading too much data. You can reduce or remove those fees by using a VPN that blocks your ISP from knowing you are on a computer. After you download the torrent, ThrottleBox ensures that your torrent traffic is encrypted and sent through your private network. In addition, by using a VPN, you can use more remote destinations in the future and more easily share the VPN connection. For example, if you are in another country with a different service provider but want to still be able to torrent, then a VPN is the only way to do that. In some cases your torrenting ISP may terminate your contract if they find out that you are using a VPN. That’s why it’s important to use a VPN that has a zero logging policy.
