New Team-Specific Tactics Teams will play the way they see fit and use thematic approaches to ensure they thrive on the pitch. For example, the Gunners will play like a stingy midfield predator, while the Swans have adapted their game to be more dynamic and entertaining. New tactics will also be incorporated to suit the needs of certain gameplay situations such as free-flowing football. A total of eight new tactics -- including Team Line-Up, Defensive Wingbacks, 4-2-3-1 and 4-4-2-0 - can be selected in the Team Management menu to customise your team play. Teams can also be tailored to suit the playing style of each individual player, from their physical attributes to their preferred style of play and technical ability. Play Your Way Players will have the chance to unlock new gameplay, skills and features as they progress through their career. Sides will now have the ability to sign, train, and play with over 150 players as they forge their own style of football and work towards each individual's potential. From the team you start with, to training with a new generation of international players, to playing against rivals in the new "Best of the Post" online mode, you'll feel your skills increase with every passing season. Save Your Game There's now a Save Your Game feature in Franchise Mode, allowing players to save the location of all digital rewards, items and equipment in a single game. This means you will no longer have to decide which game you will use to achieve the look of your ideal game. Franchise Mode With the introduction of matches and gameplay variety, FIFA 22 will provide the most addictive Franchise Mode experience of any FIFA game. You'll earn experience points, unlock exciting items and complete special challenges as you complete game objectives. Player-Driven Seasons Get to know your players, manage training, evaluate their game time and performance, and discover players who can have a profound impact on the course of your club's season. Collect and Customise In Franchise mode, every player, every manager and every competition have been designed to expand on and complement the game's brand. Your team will collect new players and items, customise team and stadium designs, and increase your team's overall experience.

Features Key:

- Live out your dreams as both a manager and a player in FIFA 22.
