The legendary nine-lives cat of the eastern Slavic mythology who had nine lives was always on the front line of any battle. The masters of the cat, sorcerers who have used it to rescue their lives, could make the cat fight on their behalf. Thus the saga of the cat's career begins. In Catmaze we started a campaign that will be running for a very long time. It's a plot that reminds of the times of the heroic literature and the adventures of Genji and Kikou. The game, in contrast to many metroidvania, contains no levels with cut corners and contains no levels without story. In the game you will play as Cat Bayn, an ordinary apprentice to the sorcerers. Their metropolis seems to be a small town in the middle of the forest, where the sorcerers reside. Catmaze has been created with the concept of the open world, all the zones are interconnected, and every time you progress the story you will get the right to access the next zone. At the beginning, you will have to deal with witches and boggarts. When the story gets more intriguing, dangerous legendary creatures will appear. You will be able to summon good help during the battles. You can not complete the game in a single run, because there is no end and no restart button. Catmaze has no levels and no fast-forward. This means that you will always try to improve your chances and search for new paths when you approach the end of the road. Start in the mountain under the snow, through forests, with lakes and rivers; Follow the avenger who was betrayed; Visit the lands of cruel magicians and conniving witches; Prove your worth as a magician and regain your trust to the sorcerers; Discover the secrets of the ancient and the souls of the living! Follow the adventures of Cat Bayn, a magician who took his first steps along the old road. A supernatural creature, which you will accompany all the time, will lead you to the magical forest of the sorcerers. The metroidvania genre is very popular in our time. The genre has become a part of the gaming culture. The essence of metroidvania is the freedom of choice: the ability to choose the main hero from a variety of characters, to choose how the journey will look, to choose a way to proceed. The challenge of the metroidvania lies in the

How you think: Think and act like a real psychologist using virtual reality to compete and win money!

Become a real psychologist: Train and practice your mental skills!

Brain Dump and Practice: Learn psychology with the likes of Freud, Jung and others.

Meet your neighbor (or pathological liar, or convict, or ex-husband, or someone famous...) and make a judgment about them!

Learn more about our i5VR psychology learning resources. How do you feel about your neighbor?

Here is how you play:

Use your mouse to find the clues on your desktop. This is a bird's eye view of all the actions you can take in our online game. (You'll use a keyboard to interact with menus or buttons on the screen.)

This scene is designed to be view from the top down (as an on-rails "bird's eye" view) so that you move a cursor over the objects to "look at" what is there, and use the mouse buttons to select, drag and drop, etc. The problem set is how to determine if the neighbor is "normal" or "abnormal".

Consider this example: *Hint:*What is normal? If the answer is very negative, then your "neighbor" is definitely not normal. Ask around to see if your neighbor fits any of these categories:

- If your neighbor is attractive and needy, she has a sexual problem and may be suffering from testical anxiety (you may not like this one.)
- If your neighbor stays at home all day, spends time alone, wears a mask and goes away to a secret room or

Mighty Dungeons is a fantasy game with a free web version to play now! Please see How to play Mighty Dungeons. There are nine Mighty Dungeons available. And new ones are coming regularly. A new one will appear every week (or so) from now on and they will be free. Read more about the Mighty Dungeons. Mighty Dungeons is free to play. Once you purchase a Mighty Dungeons, you will be given a username and password for the game. You will not be charged to play the Mighty Dungeons. Mighty Dungeons uses the Playsafari service to play. The playsafari service gives the user an internet connection and allows the users to play the games via their browser (like the internet cafe model). Playsafari does not charge the user any money. Mighty Dungeons offers an interesting fantasy world, quite unique and simple but the game offers a wide range of choice (15 dwarves, 15 elves, 12 human beings, 8 undead beings). Every kind of character has different skills and abilities. You can create a new character by choosing one of the kinds of characters. Also, you can customize the character with choosing up to six skills and abilities. You start as a novice in the game, in other words, you start with an inexperience of skills and abilities and for every two times you play the game, you can increase the level of your character. Mighty Dungeons uses a dynamic battlefield system. The battlefield is created dynamically by choosing a location (cave, village, desert etc). The game does not predetermine the battlefield for you. Features Mighty Dungeons offers a wide range of skills and abilities. More than 20 skills and abilities are offered. They are divided into 3 groups: skills (reflection, movement, attack etc.), weapons (short and long bows, staff, lance, mace, maul etc.) and magic (magic resistance, fire protection etc.). The combinations of skills and abilities that you use are up to your creativity and that will determine what kind of adventurer you can become. Mighty Dungeons also offers a special skill that is called "dungeon sense". This is a type of skill that tells you if you are in a safe spot or an unsafe spot. Mighty Dungeons also offers you a choice of weapons and magic, depending on your class. You can use the weapons and magic of others but you have to pay with experience points, you earn the experience points with playing the game. You can choose between three weapons: short

What's new:

The Trouble with Games I like games. Games that help to enthrall and capture an audience in one go without adverts and loading screens or inane cutscenes. Games that can provide escapism on demand. When my console is turned on I tend to sit down with a pad, a controller and a few glasses of beer (as supplied) and play for however long it takes the intriguing voice to whisper in my ear, "have fun". This would be acceptable if I didn't have a wife, husband and three children. Christmas presents are not a form of payment I can risk having to buy, so getting lost in the pages of a game's components for longer than 30 minutes means Christmas is likely to be a much lesser experience for my children than it could have been. It would probably make for a much lesser Christmas generally. Of course now that I have children and a wife, I feel only pity for those families out there who do not have this problem. I honestly cannot think of anyone that does not share the pain of the weight on their shoulders, so I can only give the advice I would gladly be given myself - start planning everything three years into the future and so on forever. As mentioned, I used to get away with this most of the time (though people did swear at me) until I had kids. Now I am in a more controlled position and I can't. My controller (and incidentally the children's controllers and the children's controller) is constantly being snatched away by my kids, and very often they are in the middle of a game. Now it is not just games that this occurs in, but in everyday life. They would not - must not - go to the park on their own to play with a balloon without the risk of having the balloon snatched away from them before they have completed the mission (bread-time) or the plumbing having to wait a few seconds too long just as the toilet is about to flush (toilet-time). I learnt quickly that in order to teach a child that mess does not mean re-arranging the living room carpet, you must dominate everything that they do. A chair pulled out doesn't give me a chance to be a doctor any more, nor the toilet-time, or the bath-time. Because they will become desperate to stop me being so controlling, and will desire to do as I say. It might kill the mood, or someone might choke on a dip. Being the
